Earth: My Home

Earth, My Home
is a retreat day focused on being one with the web of life. This day will include a presentation that uses art, poetry, and reflection to focus on our natural address in the universe. Participants are invited to experience oneness with the web of life. We will learn about bioregionalism and explore some of the functions of a bioregion. We will discover how living in a bioregionally way can restore the community of life.
